

Patrick Gaines, Sr.
Gaines Government Services, Inc.

Patrick began his long and varied political career over twenty-five years ago with his first job out of college. As a new graduate from the University of Oklahoma, Patrick went to work on the staff of the Oklahoma House of Representatives. Patrick served in this position for over three years, becoming well versed in government and the political process. He has also served as the Legislative Director for the State Insurance Department, State Director for the Oklahoma Republican Party and as an assistant to Higher Education Chancellor Hans Brisch.

In 1999, Patrick left state service and began his government relations career working for a statewide medical group. In 2003, Patrick formed his own consulting company, Gaines Government Services, Inc. His clients include a wide variety of professions and industries.

Patrick is dedicated to community service serving on numerous boards and commissions.

Patrick is also the owner of Gaines Properties LLC, a real estate investment firm in Oklahoma. He and his wife Jennifer Carr Gaines are the proud parents of boy/girl twins.
